ONLY 350 ACRES Remaining Unsold of the Hickey Tract, Two Miles East of Loomis, Surveyed and Subdivided into 20-acre Tracts.

THE SOIL IS DEEP AND RICH, IS MOSTLY cleared, which alone costs from $15 to $30 per acre, consequently adding that amount to these lands, aside from time required in clearing, the land being ready to cultivate. That portion uncleared has but little underbrush. The wood will pay expense of clearing. Mostly level; no waste land; every acre can be utilized; several springs in various parts of the tract; all can be brought under rrigation, the ditch adjoining the land, although the trees in this vicinity do better without it, owing to the richness of the soil. Price, $30 to $50 per acre, according to choice. Terms, one third cash; deferred payments, 6½ per cent. per annum. Mr. Thomas Chatfield, the owner, is always upon the land, and will take pleasure in taking the intending purchaser to and from the depot at Loomis. ### THE PRESS AND THE COURTS. In the Superior Court of San Francisco a filthy divorce case is being tried. The details are too scandalous for even mere reference. In the exercise of its rights, and in protection of public morality, and for the conservation of the ends of justice, the Court ordered its doors closed, and put all parties to the case under orders not to repeat the wretched details, nor to furnish them for publication. However, the San Francisco Examiner managed to find a traitor in the camp, and published from day to day the filthy details with such partial suppression as made them still more objectionable-just as half disrobement is more scandalous than nudity. Thereupon the Court called all the parties before it, and each of them under oath denied having broken the injunction of secrecy. A reporter for the Examiner was then called in, and admitting that he had written the reports, and refusing to divulge the source of his information, was itted to prison for contempt. He was bailed out, and legal proceedings have been commenced to shelter him from the order for contempt. Thus far all is clear enough. The Court's order of commitment was clearly justified. Unless the Courts of the land possess the power to protect themselves from the Paul Prys of the press, and to maintain their dignity, there is an end of self-government. It is not Judge Sullivan who is upon the bench of the Superior Court of San Francisco, but the people of the State. Those who defy the orders of a Court do not offend against the individual upon the judgment seat, but against the sovereign himself-in this country, the people and every individual person of the community. It may be deemed "smart," "sensational," "live," and all that, to invade the order of a Court and defeat an end it has conserved, but properly viewed it is an assault upon ree institutions. For it cultivates contemptuous disregard for our Courts, the bulwarks of our liberties; it fosters disrespect for due authority, and encourages the sentiment that considers orderly government the enemy of personal liberty, a thing to be contemned, reviled and spit upon. If these are right dispositions to cultivate means in the ends it attains. Hear it: means in the ends it attains. Hear it:

How its reporter acquired the facts is a matter for the exclusive consideration of the manager of this journal. The public is only concerned in knowing that the facts are correct. We do not mean to say that the Court has no right to employ all the reasonable weans at its command to enforce its order of secrecy and expose the leak through which the facts have found their way to the public, but its jurisdiction, we respectfully submit, extends no further than to the officers of the Court and the litigants in the case. Right at this point a question arises which has confronted the Courts in nearly every American city for years past, What authority has a Court over persons outside of the case it tries and outside of the place of trial with no visible connection with the case?

A Court has no authority whatever if it

A Court has no authority whatever if it This is the most concise statement of the ase yet made. The way to avoid all this specified a certain class, and a very danger-ous one. The jurisdiction of the Court extends to whomsoever violates its order. That order is to all men. The very fact that surreptitious means were employed to secure fa report of the proceedings testifies to the knowledge of the reporter and the journal that their acts were in violation of the orders of the Court. The case then is not simply a trial of wits between the court on the one side, and the newspaper on the other, but of the deliberate intentional and planned violation of the order of a tribunal of the people, which it was competent to make, and which it is the duty of every self-respecting citizen.

This is the most concise statement of the case yet made. The way to avoid all this self-confidence and all the sac yet made. The way to avoid all this self-confidence are intentional to the proper and the court extends to whomsoever violates its order. The torse of the court of the proceedings testificates that surreptitious means were employed to secure fa report of the proceedings testificates to the knowledge of the reporter and the journal that their acts were in violation of the orders of the Court. The case then is not simply a trial of wits between the court of the deliberate intentional and planned violation of the order of a tribunal of the people, which it was competent to make, and which it is the day of every self-respecting citizen.

This is the most concise statement of the day to distinct bills, so the was a rale of decision in any courts of the sac when the water may be diverted and used the water may be diverted and used the test. Such water may be diverted and used the test. Such water may be diverted and used the test. Such water may be diverted and used the test. Such water may be diverted and used the test. to obey. The newspaper man has no more right to violate it than one of the parties or attorneys or witnesses to the case. There is no broader privilege to the man who happens to control a few types and a cylinder press than to any other citizen, and he has no license to defeat the ends of justice that is not possessed by the citizen who does not commit his ideas to print. The case of the Examiner in itself is a small one, but the principle involved is one of surpassing magnitude. We should feel self-reproach if we permitted the occasion to pass, without as one of the press. The collection of surpassing magnitude. We should feel self-reproach if we permitted the occasion to pass, without as one of the pressent constitution and Amendments.

SACRAMENTO AND THE FRUIT TRADE.

The San Francisco Alta says:

Organization of the fruit trade has proved that Sacramento is to be the center of shipment. It has developed a new industry for that good city, and has made it the focus of this great commerce. Our State capital is to be to the fruit trade of the State—what Chicago is to the grain trade of the Mediterranean States. Thousands of carloads will leave that city every year. Beginning with the April cherries, the May peaches, the June apricots, the July plums, prunes and pears, the August grapes, and then passing to the late fruits, which reach the East as far behind the Eastern season as these are ahead of it: finelly the orange crop of central and northern California will keep up a constant flow of shipments to an eager market, so that not more than one month in the year will be without its fresh fruits to forward from that city. Collateral to the fruit trade must grow up a commerce in fresh vegetables. California has new potatoes, green peas, string beans, cabbage, cauliflower and salads every month in the year. They are all hardy and bear shipment. They can be put into the Chicago market in four days from the garden, and into New York in six. There is no reason why an excellent trade should not be made in these products. Florida is our only rival, but Florida is incapable of a perpetual succession of crops. The San Francisco Alta says:

The only error in this pleasant statement is in the recital that the fruit trade has developed a new industry for Sacramento. This is simply obeying the mandate of the law. We cannot conceive how it would be possible for legislators eive how it would be possible for legislators regardful of their oaths to do otherwise. There are a few persons, however, in California who entertain the idea that the refusal of the Senate to act may bar the proceedings. But this is chimerical. If the Senate should decline to do its duty, refuse to act, the result will be simply the same as if it had failed by majority to agree upon a person as United States Senator, and the joint convention would follow the result of the mandate of the law. a substitute therefor. THE SPECIAL ORDER. The special order of the day was Assembly concurrent Resolutions No. 1, relative to the ale of public lands. It was taken up, and its

as follows:

WHEREAS, The great valley of California, between latitude 34° 50°, near Fort Tejon, and 40° 40°, near Shasta, with an extreme length of five hundred and fifty miles, and an average width of sixty miles, lying between the Coast Range and Sierra Nevada mountains, and containing an area of nearly thirty-five thousand square miles, or more than twenty two million acres of land—an area nearly capual in extent to half of agreeable in winter, hot and desiceating in summer, but yet not enervating nor unfavorable to industry; and, whereas, all of this great domain is wonderfully fertile, and capable of being made to yield what in other countries would be considered fabulous crops, of all the useful grains, fruits, berries, vegetables, nuts and grasses, if stimulated by water, applied by irrigation to bring out its fertility and make it useful; and, whereas, the sources from which water for irrigation may be obtained belong, in the main, to the United States, being situated upon arising in and flowing through the mountains bordering this great valley, which mountains are largely public land of the United States; but, under the existing laws, the innavigable streams and lakes, the sources in question, will, when the land is sold, pass to the purchasers, and render very difficult, if not impossible, the application of these waters to the greatest good—the irrigation of the valley; and whereas, if said waters are dedicated to the State for public use, under legislative control, for irrigation, mining, manufacturing and other beneficial uses, they will be devoted to the general and greatest good in changing sightless deserts into fruitful farms and perennial loveliness, whilst otherwise they will be grabbed by monopolists and held to their individual use, to the detriment of the general public and the inmonopolists and held to their individual use, to the detriment of the general public and the injury of the State. Therefore,

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate concurring, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to urge the amendment of the United States statutes relative to the sale of public lands in the State of California, so that hereafter the innavigable streams and lakes therein will not be conveyed with the land, and to obtain, if possible, a dedication to the State of such streams and lakes, for public use, under legislative control, for irrigation, mining, manufacturing and other beneficial Resolved. That his Excellency the Governor i

As would naturally be expected, these resolu As would naturally be expected, these resour-tions net with violent opposition from every ir-rigationist in the House. Dr. May said if this resolution was passed the members might as well take their gripsacks and start for their homes. "It was a riparian clam rolled in irri-gation meal." The very question, he said, they were called upon to consider was whether, when a man purchased land, he purchased the Speaker Parks took the floor and made a vigorous speech against the resolutions. He denied the right of property in water to any one until it had been appropriated. No one can sit still and let the water pass by and continue in possession until it reaches the sea. Water becomes property after appropriated and put to a legitimate use. The State can appropriate the water, and it would be public policy to do so.

McGlashan opposed the resolutions, though he said the question of the claims of the Government must be met in some way. He did not believe there should be any ownership of water except by appropriation. Speaker Parks took the floor and made a vig-except by appropriation.

On motion of Firebaugh, the resolutions wernade the special order for Friday morning at 1 clock.
The Speaker read a notice requesting the Re publican Assemblymen to meet the Republican Senators in joint caucus at 2:30 P. M., in the Su-preme Court-room, and the Assembly then ad-

REPUBLICAN JOINT CAUCUS.

All question as to the intention of the Republican members of the Legislature concerning the election of a successor to Hearst was set at rest yesterday. The Republicans of both houses held a joint caucus, at which seventy members were present. Senator McClure presided. The subject of the election of a short-term Senator was discussed by several members, prominent among them being Messrs. McClure, Vrooman, Days and Parks. The caucus decided that the Legislature should remain in session until a Senator shall be elected. A committee, composed of Messrs. Hazard, Boone, McClure, Whitney and Ellison, was appointed to inquire into the possible effect, if any, of the Governor declaring next Tuesday a legal holiday upon the question of balloting for a Senator. Also, as to what effect, if any, the withdrawal of the Democratic members would have upon the proposed

The Oregonian says:

The trouble with the river and harbor bill is the same difficulty that paralyzes all efforts of either party to revise or reform the tariff. Every member of Congress makes some sop to his constituents the condition of his support of the bill. In consequence the bill always gets loaded down with a lot of refuse matter, which robs it of all reform quality if it becomes a law, or persuades a protesting Executive to veto it.

This is the most concise statement of the case yet made. The way to avoid all this difficulty is to prepaye four distinct bills difficulty is to prepaye four distinct bills.

A BILL RECOMMENDED. The Assembly Committee on Irrigation met ast evening, and took up for consideration Assembly Bill No. 1, introduced by Moffitt of Alameda, an Act to repeal Section 1422 of the Civil Code.

Moffitt moved that it be referred back to the Assembly, with a recommendation that it do pass.
Walrath moved to amend by striking out the recommendation. He thought the bill should be referred back to the House without recommendation. mendation.

Mofflit defended his motion, saying that the repeal of Section 1422 would wipe out the acquisition of riparian rights in the future, but would not interfere with vested rights already acquired.

Woodward was in favor of the amendment. This was an extreme bill, and one which, in his opinion, could not pass. He said a middle and more equitable position must be taken. Unless a middle ground was adopted no legislation could be secured.

Walrath's amendment was defeated by the following vote:
Ayes—Culver, Gregory, Kalben, Woodward
Walrath—5. Walrath—5.
Noes—Ash, Clark, De Witt, Edwards, Goucher, Hussey, Hazard, Munday, Moffitt, McDonald, Patterson, Reeves, Swayne—13.
Moflitt's resolution then prevailed.
Munday introduced a substitute for the De Witt blll—No. 3—which is identical with that introduced in the Senate by Del Valle.

EXTRA-SESSIONAL NOTES.

No specially new developments came to light esterday concerning the coming man for uited States Senator. The name of J. B. Steton, President of the Board of Trade of San rancisco, is now mentioned in connection with the position. Friends of Henry Edgerton, it is officed, are active in behalf of their candidate. It Edgerton is in the city. Mr. Edgerton is in the city.

The first business after the reading of the Mr. Edgerton is in the city.

The first business after the reading of the Senate journal yesterday was the offering of the following resolution by Mr. Cross: "Resolved, that the reporter, editor and proprietor of the journal known as the Political Record be severely censured for publishing such an ugly portrait of the handsome Senator from Mono." The resolution was "laid under the table."

Tuesday Senator Taylor offered a resolution providing for the printing of 300 copies of a certain document, and directing that the same be printed in "law pica." Another member suggested that perhaps "small pica" was meant. Another was of the opinion that it must be "long primer," and yet another thought that "law pica." was correct, as indicating the kind of type generally used in legal printing. The Senate was about to get into inextricable confusion over the conundrum, when a Senator who publishes a paper in Placer county came to the rescue by suggesting that the resolution should read "long-primer leaded," and it was so ordered. If the printers should return the document printed with four-line pica-extended-aution-gothic-condepsed-claren-

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

lished in yesterday's Record-Union was well rendered in all its parts, the scholars acquitting themselves very creditably. The instrumental trio, violin, piano and flute, was able and interesting.

The ungraded school at Twenty-seventh and J streets, one of the best in the city, Mrs. Helen Taylor Principal, and Miss Laura Kirn assistant, held its closing exercises yesterday morning. The assembly room was handsomely decorated for the occasion, the black-board drawings and specimens of the scholars' penmanship were particularly worthy of note. The attendance of parents and others who take an interest in educational matters was quite large. Superintendent M. R. Beard and Directors J. W. Todd, A. Conklin and R. Davis were also present. At the close of the exercises the teachers received many compliments, as did also the pupils for their excellent showing.

mary at Seventh and G. The Harlan Case.

Hart finished the closing argument for the prosecution at 6 P. M. Tuesday, and the Court then adjourned until 9:30 A. M. yesing great interest in the result was maniat the Record-Union office to gain information on the subject.

The telephone between this city and Woodland was frequently brought into service, and the information received up to ten for acquittal. The case has occupied a longer time in trying than any similar case

Tuesday had died from the effect of his injuries. The information appeared to come District Attorney, and they arranged to go to Freeport this morning and make a thorough investigation of the matter. It has been learned, however, that the report, which was to the effect that one of the injured men had been removed to San Francisco and died there, grew out of the receipt of dispatches announcing the death in that city of another Chinaman, belonging to the same company. Fong Soon yester day went to Freeport and sent one of the wounded men to San Francisco, to be treated by a Chinese doctor, and the one supposed to be most seriously injured was brought to Sacramento. Both are doing as well as can be expected.

OPEN-AIR CONCERT .- The open-air con cert given by the First Artillery Band in Capitol Park last evening was largely attended, and in every way a decided success. The programme was an excellent one, and the music rendered in that admirable style for which this band has become famous. The evening was cool, and the grounds, brilliantly lighted with electricity, presented a very pretty sight. The front steps, the portico and the windows of the offices the Capitol facing west were all occupied, while hundreds enjoyed the delightful promenades. The best of order prevailed, and the officers found no difficulty in keeping the people off the sloping ter-

EDS. RECORD-UNION: It is more condu

ive to the interest of any community that he truth should be known, than that poitical demagogues should be allowed to nislead the people by their specious sophisms for the purpose of inducing them to sanction and adopt measures not war-The irrigation principle upon which the Legislature is called to act has no legal standing either in law, equity or justice. I do not believe it is in the interest of the laboring classes to allow a wealthy land syndicate that have gobbled up millions of acres of desert land to monopolize all the water rights and privileges in the State. Our canal and ditch owners have vested rights by Act of Congress. In this county there is no surplus water except in the wet season, when it is not needed for irrisupplied by our mining canals and ditches though they carry all the water of our mountain streams when it is required for irrigation. The only way to have surplus and reservoirs would cost the State mil-lions. I do not believe this privilege is asked for the benefit of our landless poor. I think it is more for the benefit of these oulless monopolists than to benefit the citizens of the State generally. If the State not) to take from the foothill owners of land their riparian rights, it would be an unjust proceeding to deprive settlers of their water privileges. The Legislatures of this State have formerly passed some very foolish and unconstitutional Acts, in con-flict with national law, which have been epudiated by Congress and declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States. I can instance many such Acts, but it is sufficient to say that the Legislature of the State of California had no constitutional power to grant to foreigners the right to mine on the public domain on the payment of a tax. In conclusion, l will say that Governor Stoneman's political irrigation gun being discharged at the present time is, in my opinion, more likely to kill his friends than foes. E. S. HALL. Plymouth, July 27, 1886.

On the 4th of April, 1860, the Supervisors deeded to the State the tract of land bounded by L and N, Tenth and Twelfth streets. On July 14, 1860, the plans of M. F. Butler were adopted, which entitled him to $1,500 and the superintendency of construction of the building. The State Capitol Commissioners were B. B. Redding, A. Redington and Edgar Mills. September 10, 1860, the contract was signed by the Commissioners and Michael Fennewell, of San Francisco, by which the latter agreed to furnish materials for and completely make and finish necessary excavations, and the foundation and basement walls of the building, to hights specified in the plans, to commence work on October 1, 1860, and to finish the Milestones on the Road to Health. The recovery of digestion, and the re umption of activity by the liver, bowel and kidneys, are milestones which mark speedily become perceptible when Hostet-ter's Stomach Bitters is used by the invalid. Nothing so surely and expeditiously consumes the distance to the desired goal. As no bodily function can suffer interruption without impairing the general health of the system, so the system can never acquire perfect vigor, health's synonym, until that function be actively resumed. Take, for instance, digestion, a suspension of which is invariably rectified by the Bitters. If the organs upon which it devolves grow weak, iliousness, constipation, headache, poverty of the blood and a hundred other symp toms supervene, which indicate unmistak-ably the baneful general influence of dysentine Vincent and Gus Williams, arrested ably the baneful general influence of dys here by officer Rider Monday afternoon on pepsia. The disappearance of all these symptoms, through the use of the Bitters, shows with what thoroughness it removes their cause.

WHEAT—The spot market displayed an easy feeling this morning. Prominent exporters declined to pay over $1 25 $7 ctl for ordinary No. 1 shipping grades, and were not well disposed to take better quality at $1 26%. Holders of strictly choice lots wanted $1 27% at least for their particular offerings.

BARLEY—Feed was weaker to-day. Asking prices were lowered to 97½c $\barphi$ ctl for choice quality, but buyers as a rule would not bid over 95c, though it was understood that moderate transfers were negotiated on a basis of 96½c $\barphi$ ctl. New Brewing has been in fair demand the past week, and prices have been somewhat steady. At the moment, however, the inquiry is less positive, and values are not quite so strong. A first c ass article is held at $1 12½, with $1 10 bid. Less choice stock can be had as low as $1 05 $\barphi$ ctl. Conflicting opinions prevail in regard to the value of Chevslier barley. There has been rather free buying of this description of late, said to be for shipment East by sailing vessel. Some parties report $1 30@1 37½ as the extremes of the market, while others give actual transactions as high as $1 42½.
